

Contractor Sign In and Induction Record

Record not just that a contractor arrived but what they were told about your building before they started work.

Contractors on site — who they are, what they were briefed on, and that they signed for it.

RECORD WHAT THEY WERE TOLD, NOT JUST THAT THEY ARRIVED

The induction column is the point. A contractor sign-in that does not record what they were told about the building is a list of names. What your induction has to cover depends on the site and the law where you are — write your own points in and tick them off.
