

Record why a round finished where it did, not just the number, by tracking the three statistics that explain almost all of it.

Eighteen holes with the shots that actually cost you the round — fairways, greens and putts, not just the score.

A score tells you what happened. Fairways hit, greens in regulation and putts tell you why. No handicap calculation is printed here — handicapping is run by your union or association and their method is the one that counts.
