

Job Sheet

Capture a job while you are still standing in it: what was asked for, what was done, what went into it and how long it took.

The trade job sheet: who the customer is, what they asked for, what was actually done, what went into it and how long it took — written on site while it is all still fresh.

A RECORD, NOT A CONTRACT

A job sheet is a record of work carried out. It is not a contract, an estimate or an invoice, and a signature on it does not settle terms — keep whatever written agreement you actually rely on alongside it.
