

Pantry Stock and Reorder Sheet

See at a glance what has fallen below the level you want to keep, so staples get reordered before a recipe stops and duplicates stop accumulating behind them.

What is on the shelf, how much of it you want there, and what needs reordering before it runs out mid-recipe. One line per item, counted and dated.

YOUR FIGURES, NOT OURS

A par level is the number of something you want to have in stock before you buy more. It is yours to set, and it depends on how you cook and how often you shop. No storage times, keeping guidance or best-before figures are printed here either — those belong to the packet in front of you and to advice where you live. This sheet holds a count against a level you chose.

Household or premises

Store, cupboard or shelf

Counted by

Date

Item	Unit	Par	Count	Checked	Opened	Best before	Reorder	Supplier
	tin / kg	your level	counted	dd/mm/yy	dd/mm/yy	as printed	Y / N	