

Poultry Flock Register

Keep a register of birds on the holding, with the movements that anyone asking about disease or provenance will want to see.

Which birds are on the holding, where they came from and what became of them.

NOT A STATUTORY REGISTER

Some countries require poultry keepers above a certain number to register the flock and to keep records of movements, and the threshold and the form differ. This is a working register, not any country's statutory one — check what applies to you.
